Informational

- 1 Matt Munger 12/29/2017 10:20 AM
Checked on the site for Steve while he was out for the day. Spoke with the workers that were setting up the forms for the concrete area on the NW side. I informed to make sure they don't pour concrete today due to the temperature being too cold. They stated they may try and pour next week. I told them to get with Steve before they are going to pour.

Informational

- 2 I talked with the contractors earlier in the week about the temperature being too cold to pour concrete, they told me they would not pour. The contractors have been forming and putting in re-bar for the ramp leading into the building. I drove by this morning and they were brooming the ramp they had poured earlier this morning, they told me the boss said to pour it anyway. The temperature was 25 degrees when I drove by and the temperature through this week has been in the teens and single digits. Steve Robbins 01/05/2018 1:57 PM

Corrective Action Required

- 3 The contractors poured more concrete on Saturday when the temperature was in the 20's. I got here at 9:00 this morning and they have 3 concrete trucks and have been pouring, the temperature was 30 degrees when I got here and things seem to be frozen. I just talked with Scott Fischer about the concrete temperature and them pouring concrete when it's too cold. I explained that even though it is private we still have standards and that what they have done does not meet our standards. He is going to let the concrete crew know about our concerns. I let him know I have spoke with my boss and I will be getting back to him. Steve Robbins 01/08/2018 9:28 AM
