Re: Company/Business Function and Use
No Specialized Electrical Requirements

This letter is to describe and affirm the business use and function of my company, Kemper Communication, P.C., as we seek approval for building permits from the city for office remodeling activities within my new business location.

I am a Speech-Language Pathologist, providing habilitative and rehabilitative therapy services to pediatric patients in an outpatient setting. My company is considered a health-related professional corporation and I am considered an Allied health care provider. However, when evaluating and treating patients, my therapeutic activities and business require NO use of health care techniques, supplies, or equipment which would require specialized or specific electrical modifications to the building. All electrical outlets and fixtures will be used as is standard in a home and/or typical office setting.

As requested, I am explicitly stating that there will never be devices used on patients that are plugged in.

Thank you, and please let me know if you require further clarification towards this matter.

Sincerely,

Teresa G. Kemper, MA, CCC-SLP
