Well, I thought it was two separate spaces that they were adjoining, but it's actually one space (Suite D).
The two storefronts are that size, but it's really 14' x 45' feet across both storefronts. The two companies are related and accessed by one door.
I was a little confused at first, but I recently set foot inside now that it's finished. My original measurements were before they opened.
