That sounds like I a plan. I understand the stipulations.

Thanks,

Matt

Matt,

Since you don't know exact size of the retaining walls yet, we will allow you t defer the plans. You need to have the plans in with an updated plot plan before occupancy. Please respond to this email that you understand the retaining wall plans are deferred, but will need to be submitted and approved before you begin work on them.

Good morning,

The pool is not part of my scope of work. The homeowner will contract direct with the pool contractor.

We will not know retaining wall heights until we get the foundation installed. Could we submit at that time?

Thanks,

Matt

Will the pool be built at the same time as the house? Can you submit retaining wall plans for any walls over 48"? Thank you.

Matt,

Just wanted to let you know Hathaway Electric does not have a current business license. You might want to reach out to them or update your electrician. Thank you.
