Hey Andrea,

The buyer is wanting to move forward with the wall and us his own guys. I'm fine with attaching the permit to my original building permit. All good 👍

Thanks
Max

Good Morning Max,

Tom Graves, the buyer of this house, has been in contact with us regarding the retaining wall. He said he spoke to you and you are ok with him performing the work. Our department's preference is that he adds his portion of the work to your existing permit. Since the retaining wall is on your plot plan and will need to be completed for your plot plan inspection, we would consider this inside the scope of your building permit. No additional fees will be assessed. Please let me know if moving forward with his retaining wall plan as part of your permit is ok. Thank you!
