Corrective Action Required

Site Visit - Crews are actively working. We did receive a concern from a homeowner that was worried about access for her elderly neighbor. I spoke with the foreman and he stated they have and always will make access for anyone needing to get into their driveway. I let the homeowner with the concern know due to the space constraints they have to take up some space in certain areas but will make sure to make access to driveways and get out of the way.

They were backfilling with flowable fill at this time and will continue to work today but will be gone tomorrow and Friday due to the snow.
